MOHAWKS OF THE BAY OF QUINTE

R.R. #1, Tyendinaga Mohawk Territory, Ontario K0K 1X0

Phone: (613) 396-3424 Fax: (613) 396-3627

TO THE MEMBERS OF THE MOHAWKS OF THE BAY OF QUINTE FROM THE CHIEF

MARCH 31, 2003

Se:ken Sewakwekenh

I hope that this report finds you in good health. I know that many of you will have viewed many television broadcasts on The War in Iraq since March 19, 2003 when President George Bush ordered the first air strike. The television images make it evident of the growing division of opinion on the issue of whether the war is justified. The images also make it abundantly clear on the degree of injustice in the world especially against women. We pray for the military personnel engaged in this conflict and their families and we pray for peace.

At times like this, we realize how fortunate we are to live in a place not plagued by war. We thank God for his many blessings and at this time for the regenerating forces of nature.

MOHAWK LANGUAGE

An Aboriginal Language Conference was held at the Woodlanc Cultural Centre on March 3-4, 2003. Council Christine Claus Karen Lewis and I attended. Heritage Canada will be establishing an Aboriginal Language Task Force comprised of 7 to 10 people who will be appointed by the Minister of Canadian Heritage, Sheila Copps.

Heritage Canada will be investing additional dollars for language initiatives over a multi strategy.

Many speakers shared their information on the language programs that they operate in their communities with the participants.

In order to sustain and strengthen aboriginal language skill immersion school programs are needed.

Many of the participants believed that the money should be spent on programs that produce speakers or are committed to producing fluent speakers in the need future.

FEDERAL BUDGET 2003 - POLICING

I have written a letter to Ms. Gwen Boniface, Commissioner Ontario Provincial Police concerning the serious shortage of police officers at the Tyendinaga Police Service.

In the February 2003 budget, a sum of $42 million dollars will be provided by the federal government over the next 2 years to renew and expand the First Nations policing program in Canada. I enclosing a letter from Lyle Van Clief MP Prince Edward Hastings Riding for your perusal.

CASINO RAMA FUNDS

At the Annual All Ontario Chiefs Conference held June 25-27, 2002 Resolution 02/08 was passed which changed the formula for distribution of the Casino Rama revenues among Ontario First Nations. The result of this Resolution was to significantly reduce the share payable to the Four Large First Nations - Mohawk of Akwesasne First Nation, Six Nations of the Grand River First Nation, Mohawks of the Bay of Quinte First Nation and Wikwemikong Unceded First Nation.

The Four Large First Nations have a total population of approximately 50,000 members. Because of our significant responsibilities to administer reserve lands and to provide necessary services to our members, it is essential that population remain the most significant factor in determining a fair and equitable distribution of the Casino Rama Revenues. At the same time, it is recognized that the needs of the Remote First Nations are significant and substantial and that these First Nations should be appropriately recognized in any agreed formula.

The new formula (50-40-10) provides that 50% of the revenues will be distributed to all First Nations on a per capital basis (recognition of population as a factor). Ten percent of the revenues are distributed to the remote First Nations without reference to population. The balance of 40% of the annual revenue distributed equally among all First Nations without reference to population. Assigning 40% of the total revenues to be divided in this way has the effect of creating a significant windfall to smaller First Nation which is unrelated to their actual populations and needs.

As a result of this decision, the Four Large First Nations have advised the Chiefs of Ontario that a process must be developed to establish a formula which addresses the circumstances and needs of all Ontario First Nations, on a fair and equitable basis, paying due regard to the factors of population and remoteness which are identified as named criteria in the Casino Rama Revenue Agreement of June 9, 2000 (Article 2.8.5). We have also proposed to the Chiefs of Ontario that an independent technical committee should be established to recommend reasonable criteria for the distribution of the Casino Rama Revenues.

ADMINISTRATION

The Chiefs of the Four Large First Nations met with our lawyer, Brian Crane, on March 5, 2003 and requested that he arrange a meeting with the Deputy Premier of Ontario Mark Frieman, to discuss our dissatisfaction with the formula. Since any change in the formula requires the agreement of the Province. We believe that it was the intent of the Agreement to maintain population and remoteness as the major factors in revenue distribution. The Chiefs of the Four Large First Nations intends to bring this matter to the attention of the Attorney General Norm Stirling, and David Tabouchie, Chair of the Ontario Management Board.

CANADA INDUSTRIAL LABOUR RELATIONS BOARD HEARING POLICING MATTER

The Canadian First Nations Police Association is seeking certification from the Canada Industrial Relations Board as the collective bargain agent for the Tyendinaga First Nations Police Service.

It is necessary to determine who the employer is of the Tyendinaga First Nation Police Service, whether it is the Tyendinaga Mohawk Council or the Ontario Provincial Police. This has been a contentious issue among many First Nations for a number of years.

Tyendinaga Mohawk Council has never negotiated an agreement with the Province of Ontario for a Stand Alone Agreement to become the employer. Under this option, once an agreement is negotiated, a police governance board is established which becomes the employer of the police service. Council has passed a resolution approving in principal the establishment of the regional model of policing which has yet to be negotiated by the Association of Iroquois and Allied Indians and the Province of Ontario.

The Solicitor General of Canada was not present at any of the hearings conducted by the Canada Industrial Relations Board on this matter. The current policing program is funded 52% by the federal government and 48% by the Provincial government.

On March 17, 2003, Charles Cornelius of AIAI testified at the hearing. At the time of concluding arguments, the lawyer for the province objected to the Canada Industrial Relations Labour Board making a ruling without the involvement of the federal government in the process.

Mr. Keith Gordon, lawyer for the Mohawks of the Bay of Quinte stated that it was a little late in the process for the province to be raising this concern. Mr. Gordon will be asking the Canada Industrial Relations Labor Board Adjudicator to be awarding costs to the Mohawks of the Bay of Quinte if the matter has to be reheard.

The lawyers have until April 4, 2003 to provide the Adjudicator with written submissions concerning the federal government's involvement in the process.

TAXATION OF PENSIONS FOR ON RESERVE EMPLOYMENT

I am enclosing a letter from Roderick G. Quiney, Deputy Assistant Commissioner Assessment and Collections Branch, Canada Customs and Revenue Agency in response to my letter of November 13, 2002 to the Honorable Elinor Caplan, Minister of National Revenue.

In the past some of the status Band employees and Quinte Mohawk School teachers had difficulty in having Revenue Canada recognize their pension income as tax exempt where the pensionable contributions were from employment located on the Reserve. Mr. Quiney's response states that if the employment income is exempt then the pension income is also exempt. I am attaching Mr. Quiney's letter for your information.

MEETING WITH INDIAN AFFAIRS MARCH 18, 2003 - CAPITAL FUNDING ISSUES

On March 18, 2003, Councillor Velma Hill-Dracup, Christine Claus, Greg Brant, Pete Brant, Todd Kring and I met with Indian Affairs officials concerning capital project funding issues for Quinte Mohawk School and community projects.

The Capital Planning Study is in the final draft stage. Glenn Gilbert requested further investigation be conducted into the water and sewer servicing options. The first option is extending services from the Town of Deseronto plant and the second option is constructing our own water sewage treatment plants.

Glenn Gilbert approved the preliminary water and wastewater feasibility study, which outlined investigating the options. It was soon discovered that according to the Bay of Quinte RAP guidelines for phosphorous loading, further study of the Deseronto Sewage Plant was required. As a result Totten Simms Hubecki were retained at a cost of $21,000 to conduct an optimization study. Indian Affairs has agreed to pay for the costs of the study.

It is expected that the optimization study will be completed within the next week and will provide information to enable Council to determine the most cost effective servicing option.

OMS MECHANICAL UPGRADES

The following work was completed as indicated by Ted Nathason, Consultant to rectify the air quality problems at Quinte Mohawk School.

1. The heating and cooling ducts were cleaned.
2. The air return was reinsulated.
3. The solar heating panels were removed.
4. A new rooftop over the computer area was installed.
5. A wall between the computer room and the library was installed.

ADMINISTRATION

6. An assessment of the electrical loading capacity was completed.
7. The asbestos was removed.
8. The ductwork was cleaned.

Indian Affairs has agreed to reimburse the Mohawks of the Bay of Quinte $1 19,374.45 for the Quinte Mohawk School repairs.

QUINTE MOHAWK SCHOOL SEWAGE LAGOON STUDY

XCG Environmental Consultants completed the study on the sewage lagoon system at a cost of $21,000.00. The ECG findings and recommendations were:

1. Quinte Mohawk School is operating a lagoon without operational criteria as established by the Ministry of the Environment. Normally lagoons would operate with guidelines established by certificate of approval from the Ministry of the Environment.
2. Current phosphorous loading is non compliant to Bay of Quinte RAP
3. We have not been issued phosphorous loading capacity
4. Disinfection of the discharge is absent
5. Complicated system and staff requires training.
6. Water for cleanup is necessary (Sanitation issue for workers)
7. Lagoon is 35% over capacity. Recommend a water and wastewater audit to account for the excess flows.

Indian Affairs has agreed to pay the cost of $21,000 for the lagoon study and to consider funding the wastewater audit at a cost of $19,000.00 in the new fiscal year.

QUINTE MOHAWK SCHOOL OVERCROWDING

The current population of QMS is approximately 372 staff and students. The design rated capacity of the building is 295 according to the school space accommodation standards.

Additional classroom space is required. Preliminary estimates total $1 million to construct an addition of approximately 7,626 square feet consisting of 1 kindergarten, 3 classrooms, 1 science room and conversion of existing kindergarten to 2 classrooms.

Indian Affairs recognizes that additional space is required at QMS but require that a space feasibility study be completed to ensure that the addition meets all of the department's education facilities criteria. Indian Affairs agreed to pay for this study.

Approximately 7 years ago Cromarty Architect completed a design for a school addition for space outlined above at a cost of $90,000. A number of years ago Indian Affairs agreed to reimburse Mohawks of the Bay of Quinte at the construction stage of the project. Kathy Knott from Indian Affairs has proposed a multi-year funding approach for the construction of the addition.

WELL ASSESSMENT

The well water assessment study should be completed in April 2003. Indian Affairs agreed to cost share the expenses for the study with the Mohawks of Bay of Quinte for a total of $43,300.00.

A meeting will be arranged in the new fiscal year between Indian Affairs, Health Canada and the Mohawk Council to discuss the possibility of implementing a remediation assistance program to enable community members to remediate their wells. We will keep you posted on the outcome of these discussions.

BOTTLED WATER PROGRAM

At the March 18, 2003, Indian Affairs agreed to provide the Mohawks of the Bay of Quinte an initial $30,000 to continue with the bottled water program. During this fiscal year 102 households utilized the bottled water assistance program.

EDUCATION, CAPITAL C OMS PROJECTS AND THE TYENDINAGALANDFILL SITE ISSUE

Indian Affairs has agreed to get back to us in the new fiscal year on these issues.

SUBMISSION TO THE HOUSE OF COMMONS STANDING COMMITTEE ON ABORIGINAL AFFAIRS, NORTHERN DEVELOPMENT AND NATURAL RESOURCES ON BILL C-7: THE FIRST NATIONS GOVERNANCE ACT

On March 21, 2001 Councillor Christine Claus, Mohawk Elders and I attended the Standing Committee hearings on Bill C-7, First Nations Governance Act. All of the presentations made raised serious issues with Bill C-7 in regards to process and content of the Bill.

Many expressed concerns that Bill C-7 would infringe on the aboriginal right of self-determination, that the consultation process was inadequate, and that aboriginal consent was required.

Presentations were made by the Indigenous Bar Association, Canadian Friends Service Committee (Quakers), The Aboriginal Peoples Council of Toronto, The Association of Iroquois and Allied Indians and the Chiefs of Ontario, Six Nations Council and the Tyendinaga Mohawk Council. I am enclosing a copy of the presentation made by the Mohawks of the Bay of Quinte.

I hope that you find this report informative.

Submission of: Chief R Donald Maracle, Mohawks of the Bay of Quinte to the Standing Committee on Aboriginal Affairs, Northern Development and Natural Resources, Government of Canada

Tekanenweratons—Greetings Honorable Members of the Standing Committee on Aboriginal Affairs,

I am Chief R. Donald Maracle of the Mohawks of the Bay of Quinte and have been the elected Chief since 1993, having served as a member of the Tyendinaga Mohawk Council for 22 years.

The Mohawks of the Bay of Quinte appreciate the opportunity to state our opposition to Bill C-7, the First Nations Governance Act, an Act respecting leadership selection, administration and accountability of Indian Bands, and to make related amendments to other Acts.

For the record, the Mohawks of the Bay of Quinte are not consenting, approving, or acquiescing any infringement of our Aboriginal, Customary, Inherent or Treaty Rights to self-determination of the Mohawk Nation. Our attendance and participation in this forum is not to be construed as consultation.

It is appropriate at this time to remind the Crown of our ancient covenants made by our Mohawk ancestors where it was agreed that our relationship would be Nation to Nation. The Guswentah—Two Row Wampum Treaty Belt, was given to the British Colonial Officials by the Five Nations Haudonosonee Confederacy—depicting two rows of purple beads separated by three rows of white beads. The two purple rows symbolized two Nations travelling down the same river of life. Both vessels move side by side in the same direction and neither interferes with the other.

The Mohawk People have been political and military allies of the Crown for over three centuries. We have rendered distinguished military service in the defense of the Crown in every military conflict since 1759. Our service in the War of 1812 protected the land that would one day become Canada.

In considering appropriate Governance Laws, great care must be taken not to undermine our Ancient Treaties, Conventions and Rights of our Nation that are now protected in Section 35 of the 1982 Constitution Act.

The Mohawk Nation have an Inherent Right to self-determination. Domestic sovereignty over the internal affairs of our Nation have never been surrendered to any other Government.

The matters that are contemplated in Bill C-7 are internal matters, which reside within the jurisdiction of the Mohawk Nation. Mohawk laws must reflect the customs, values and traditions of the Mohawk People. The Penner committee and the Royal Commission on Aboriginal Peoples'

(RCAP) support this view. RCAP recognized the importance of self-determination and declared those things such as leadership selection, reporting, redress and accountability are Inherent Rights within the jurisdiction of First Nations Governments. In rendering its conclusions, RCAP said that First Nations could legislate in respect of these core areas on their own, without the need for further Federal legislation.

Section 35 of the Constitution Act, introduced in 1982, recognized and affirmed existing Aboriginal, Inherent and Treaty Rights at the date of enactment. The Inherent Right of self-determination is one of those rights.

Before The Westminster Parliament consented to the patriation of Canada's Constitution, Lord Denning ruled that First Nations' Peoples had Aboriginal, Treaty and Inherent Rights and that Canada had a fiduciary obligation to recognize and support the implementation of those Rights. This remains an outstanding Constitutional responsibility which Canada must fulfill in its relationship with First Nations' Peoples.

Prescriptive, delegated legislation enacted as a matter of federal prerogative under section 91 (94) of the British North American Act is not enacted within the spirit of a section 35 right.

It is fundamentally essential to have support of First Nations' Peoples and their democratically elected governments before any legislative amendment is passed by Parliament because it is ultimately the First Nations' People who will be most affected and impacted by the legislative change.

It is highly doubtful that the consultation process used for Bill C-7 is adequate in terms of the requirements of section 35 of the Constitution Act. The consultation reports only a very marginal 2% participation. The Assembly of First Nations has gone on record by way of resolution, opposing Bill C-7. Many First Nations are aware that the Federation of Saskatchewan Indians are currently challenging the enactment of this law, in the Federal Court. No Member of Parliament can say that within this climate of Aboriginal opposition to Bill C-7 there is a mandate from First Nations' Peoples to proceed with the legislation. If it is the intention of Canada to infringe on the existing Aboriginal Inherent Right of First Nations' People to self-determination, then Canada must justify that infringement. To process legislation through Parliament, without proper consultation and expressed consent compromises the honor of the Crown.

Since 1959, the Mohawks of the Bay of Quinte auditors have given us unqualified audit opinions. We have an excellent record of accomplishment on accountability and financial management. We are not opposed to transparency and accountability.

Finally, our comments and observations are not intended to offend the Minister of Indian Affairs or any Member of the Parliamentary process. We call upon Canada to re-examine the serious potential this legislation has to infringe on our Inherent Right to self-determination. We ask Canada to begin a legislative process that allows for a renewed partnership built upon the sure foundation of mutual respect, consent and co-operation.

Dear Chief Maracle:

The Honourable Elinor Caplan, Minister of National Revenue, has asked me to reply to your letter of November 13, 2002, about income tax being deducted from the pension income of status Indians.

I understand Mrs. Cathy Thompson, a Canada Customs and Revenue Agency (CCRA) official, spoke with you on December 19, 2002, and explained that there would be a delay in responding to your concerns.

As a result of the complex provincial and federal legislation regarding this issue, CCRA policies and procedures are being reviewed. I am informed that CCRA officials have met with London Life representative so that this situation may be addressed. At this time, meetings to clarify the matter are still ongoing.

You are correct in stating that if all the employment income is exempt from income tax, then any pension income related to that employment is also exempt. However, in some instances the pension administrator may not have the necessary documentary evidence to determine that all of the employment income is exempt. For example, the Indian Act tax exemption would not apply to income that a status Indian earned off reserve for an employer located off reserve, nor would that exemption apply to pension income based on such employment.

An administrator can be held accountable for taxes that should have been withheld and remitted. Consequently, to avoid any penalty charges that may occur as a result, most pension administrators deduct and remit as required by law. However, if the pension administrator has the client's employment history on file, and is satisfied that the funds are exempt from tax, a waiver is not required from the CCRA.

The CCRA recognizes that the highest level of public confidence must be maintained if tax and related legislation is to be administered efficiently. Our programs and procedures are reviewed frequently to ensure that they are cost-effective and that the process is fair for all Canadians. In this respect, I assure you that CCRA officials are presently reviewing your concerns.

I appreciate your bringing this matter to the CCRA's attention and I trust this explains our position.

Yours sincerely,

Rodrick G. Quiney

TRUE COLORS™ Valuing Yourself, Valuing Others Working Together Effectively

Learn to be one of Canada's Presenters
 True Colors Level I training dates:
 June 12, 13 and 14

Understanding how you interact with others, coming to value your style and accepting those of others is at the heart of the TRUE COLORS™ temperament theory tool. Each of us is as unique as our fingerprint. However, over years of research, scientists have discovered that there are four loosely grouped sets of traits that are readily observable in humanity that leave us very much like some people and so unlike others.

These differences often hinder communication because we see things as we are, not as they are and, yet, we are often surprised when we are misunderstood! This one-dimensional view of the world can prevent us from recognizing that ours is not the only way. The lack of appreciation for others' preferences may hinder communication, learning, conflict resolution and effective teambuilding - essential elements for success in life.

TRUE COLORS helps you identify the four sets of personality traits, to come to recognize and celebrate your own strengths and to accept and value those of others. It is a fun, interactive workshop that leaves participants feeling uplifted, clear about the strengths they bring to any situation, more accepting of the areas they are weaker in and more tolerant and appreciative of the preferences and strengths of others.

Become one of Canada's True Colors presenters by attending a Level I certification training program in KINGSTON, ONTARIO. The trainers, Kathy Harris and Penny Hopkins, are Level II trainers who have been using TRUE COLORS for over 12 years to assist people with communication, teambuilding, conflict resolution, family communication and career planning concerns. They welcome you to their Level I, 20 hour, certification training program.

First Nations & Inuit Health Branch Ontario Region Non-Insured Health Benefits

MEDICAL TRANSPORTATION

The purpose of medical transportation benefits is to assist eligible beneficiaries to access medically required services when they are medically referred to obtain services at a distant location outside of their geographic area of residence.

The medical transportation program is designed to defray some of the costs of getting you to and from the medically referred appointment at a reasonable cost. It is not meant to be a means of gaining or replacing income.

First Nations & Inuit Health Branch (FNIHB) Will assist by paying some or all of the expenses of a beneficiary to travel return

- to the nearest medical facility to which they have been medically referred,
- using the most efficient and economical method of transportation
- consistent with the beneficiary's health condition.

The medical care must be non-elective. This means that payment for the service is covered under a provincial health insurance plan.

What information is required in order to have the medical transportation costs considered?

It is required that you seek prior approval. This means that requests for consideration after the trip has been made will not be approved unless the nature of the trip was an emergency and documentation to that fact has been produced.

In advance of the appointment (preferably two weeks), contact the Ontario Regional Office and provide the following information.

- your name, full address including postal code, telephone number, date of birth and Indian registration number, Inuit identification number or Innu identification number;
- written confirmation from the physician who has made the medical referral indicating the date and time of the appointment, name of the doctor to be seen and the location (often this information is on the appointment card).

How long does it take to have my request reviewed and a decision made?

If all of the required information has been presented, it takes only a few days to complete the request and send you a written decision. If you have access to a facsimile machine, please indicate the FAX number and the decision can be forwarded by FAX.

Can I bring a family member with me to the appointment or obtain approval for a patient escort?

This is a possibility. However, family member transportation and patient escorts must be medically required. If authorization is not obtained to bring a family member or patient escort with you on the trip, any expenses incurred by them will not be approved by FNIHB.

Consideration will be made:

- when a family member must receive instruction in specific and essential home medical/nursing procedures;
- to allow a mother to breast feed her infant who has been hospitalized;
- when the attending physician deems it medically necessary for one family member to be present;
- when the medical referral involves a child under the age of 18 years;
- for an adult who has a physical or mental disability which prohibits him/her from travelling without a patient escort, and
- when there is seen to be a legal requirement for signing of consent forms.

Fees or salary for family member travel and patient escorts will not be paid.

What are some of the expenses that will be reimbursed to me should prior approval be granted?

The costs of land, air or water transportation, meals and accommodation may be approved.

- Rates for travel are based on the equivalent to public transportation.
- Meals and accommodation are at Ontario Region rates. In no case will the authorization exceed the approved rates. Please note, that you will need to submit original receipts for travel and accommodation.
- When an individual chooses to travel by private vehicle and commercial transportation is available and appropriate for the medical condition of the individual, the lower rate of .095 per km. will be applied.
- When commercial transportation is not available, the rate of .20 per km. will be applied.
- Should your medical condition necessitate travel by private vehicle and authorization is obtained by FNIHB, the higher rate (.20/km) or a negotiated fiat rate will be applied.

Is there a special rate for meals?

Reimbursement is made according to Ontario Regional rates. Ontario Region uses the following to determine entitlement to meal allowances:

- A day trip which exceeds eight (8) but not over twelve (12) hours, the equivalent of one lunch will be paid;
- A trip which exceeds twelve (12) but not over sixteen (16) hours, the equivalent of one lunch and one supper will be paid;
- When the trip exceeds sixteen (16) hours, the equivalent of one day's full meals will be paid;

HEALTH CENTRE

- Children five (5) years of age and under would be approved at 1/2 the adult meal rate allowance;
- When meals are required component of medical treatment, approval will be granted (example: diabetes, dialysis treatments).

What are some of the accommodation arrangements that can be approved?

There is a range of possibilities and it really depends on the location to where you have been medically referred. For example, there may be an approved boarding home, residence or hostel which includes meals and accommodations based on an arrangement with FNIHB. The facility will bill FNIHB directly for the cost. When these facilities are not available, commercial accommodation at FNIHB approved establishments will be utilized.

If you are in a position to arrange private accommodation with a friend or relative, approval can be granted at a rate of $13.50 per night.

Please note that no allowance will be provided for breastfed or bottle-fed infants.

My doctor and family have recommended that I attend a treatment centre for substance abuse. What is available should I have to go to a distant location for treatment?

Only the cost of medical transportation to an approved facility will be paid. In Ontario, an approved facility is a FNIHB Alcohol & Drug Abuse Treatment Centre, a FNIHB Solvent Abuse Treatment facility, or provincially funded Detox Centres.

Transportation to FNIHB treatment centres or provincially funded Detox Centres must be pre-authorized by FNIHB. At the time of application, FNIHB will approve one way transportation to the approved facility. A few weeks prior to completion of treatment, a representative of the treatment facility will contact FNIHB to arrange to have the return transportation approved.

Who is responsible for making the travel arrangements?

When you have obtained prior approval from the FNIHB authorizing office, you can proceed to make the travel and accommodation arrangements. If you require assistance or information on what facilities are available at the referral location, you can contact the FNIHB Client Information Line at (613) 952-0093. Also, the prior approval authorization may also list the name of a hotel for example which can be used at the rate quoted on the approval.

The staff at FNIHB can also assist with your travel arrangements if you require help. Dependent on the mode of transportation, you may have to pay the cost "up-front" and then obtain reimbursement. For trips involving public transit, pre-arrangement of tickets can be done by FNIHB.

I know of a medical facility/treatment centre located outside of Canada which can provide assistance to me. Can I obtain travel assistance to get to that facility?

Only when you have been approved by the Ministry of Health (OHIP) to obtain medical treatment outside of Canada will assistance with some or all travel costs be funded by FNIHB. Dependent on the treatment, OHIP or another program may be responsible for providing travel costs and approval from that agency must be obtained. All other requests for travel outside of Canada will not be approved.

How is reimbursement made?

As FNIHB cannot advance funding, you will need to send in an expense claim with original receipts for public accommodations and travel. Send all documents with your name, address and Indian/Inuit status number to:

First Nations & Inuit Health Branch
NIHB Client Information Unit
1547 Merivale Road, 3rd Floor
Address Locator 6103A
Nepean, ON K1A 0L3

If you wish, include a copy of your prior approval confirmation letter. This document includes all of the information we need to process a client reimbursement.

What can I do if my request for medical transportation is denied?

You should contact the nearest First Nations & Inuit Health Branch office or community based Health Centre for further information or assistance in initiating your appeal.

You must initiate the appeal in writing and your appeal submission must include new information regarding the request. Once reviewed, you will receive a written explanation for the appeal decision.

Should you have any questions, you may phone the First Nations & Inuit Health Branch, Non-Insured Health Benefits client line:

What kind of things make good gifts for new mothers who are breastfeeding?

New babies usually nurse frequently. Some babies, especially little ones, are "leisurely diners" and take a long time to be finished. Some babies like appetizers, main course, dessert, and snacks in between ! Allowing the baby to nurse as frequently and as long as it wishes is what tells the mother's body how much milk to make for her baby. Today new mothers are often surprised at how much time they spend nurturing their baby. Some give up breastfeeding if normal patterns are not expected, understood and supported, especially in the early weeks and on typical "fussy days" (growth spurts). Gifts that add to mom's comfort and gifts that make it easier for her to keep her baby close and nurse her baby as much as it needs, help her feel supported :

- a baby sling (ie "SlingEzee", "Maya", "Heart to Heart")
- lots of pillows... assorted sized (some regular and one small)
- a nursing pillow ( "My Breast Friend" is a favourite)
- quilt or warm baby blanket (for mom's shoulders)
- low footstool (raising feet avoids back and shoulder strain)
- comfortable (enough to doze off in) chair with low arm rests
- large carafe, pitcher, drinking bottle with straw, or thermos to keep water and favourite drinks handy while nursing
- healthy snacks (dried fruit, nuts, crackers, corn chips)
- red raspberry leaf tea or nettle tea (helps milk supply)
- gifts of time: bring meals, casseroles to freeze for fussy days, do some laundry, dishes or vacuuming, take older children out for awhile, backrubs or foot massages
- gifts for older children: books, colouring books, crafts, videos (things to keep them occupied)
- nursing clothing (with special openings for discreet nursing)
- cordless phone(s)
- remote for TV or stereo
- magazines, books, crosswords puzzles
- CDs, tapes (for mom or baby) lovely lullaby or play songs
- breastfeeding books (Womanly Art of Breastfeeding; Dr. Jack Newman's Guide to Breastfeeding; Bestfeeding; Breastfeeding Pure and Simple; any books by Dr. William Sears or LaLeche)

Trustee's Report March 2003

News of war is all around us. You can scarcely turn on the television or pick up a newspaper without hearing about bombing raids on Baghdad and debates in the British Parliament or questions about whether Prime Minister Chretien did the right thing in refusing to join the United States and its allies invading Iraq.

For some of us the conflict seems far away geographically and emotionally. For others the news reports stir up uneasy feelings. My husband Vincent lived through bombing and the Allied invasion of Sicily in 1943 and he re-lives the anxiety he felt as a young teen-ager. This time his worries focus on the safety of our grandchildren in Washington D.C. We talk about his feelings and the reality that this situation is different, not nearly so risky as the days when his family and neighbours hid in caves to avoid fallout from bombs.

It is normal for scary feelings from the past to surge up when something frightening happens in the present. Children and youth who have experienced loss and powerlessness (as all of us have at one time or another) may need help these days to gain some perspective on what they are experiencing in response to current events. Young children who see pictures or hear stories of death and destruction may need help to understand that this is happening very far away. High school students are likely to be more attentive to the discussions about stopping a tyrant who oppresses his own people, or the doubts about whether the United States is itself acting like a bully.

The Hastings and Prince Edward District School Board (HPEDSB) has prepared some tips for parents and teachers to help them help students cope with their feelings about war. The tips can be found on the Board website: They emphasize that different children of different ages will react differently to the same information. Some of the suggestions are:

- . Find out how much child knows and answer questions honestly.
- . Be brief - don't give your child more information than he or she can handle.
- . Don't press your child to talk but be alert for signs of anxiety and open opportunities to talk.
- . Be aware of your own feelings about the war. Your child will pick up on your anxiety even if you think you are hiding it. He or she will also pick up your feelings of being calm and in control.
- . Keep an eye on how much your child is being exposed to war coverage. If you normally leave the television on while you go about other activities, remember that the repetition of war stories can multiply the effects on a child.

First Nations young people may be especially touched by the undertones of race and religion that weave through some discussions of the war in Iraq. Are dark-skinned people being lumped together as terrorist threats? Are fellow students from other countries and cultures being targeted in the school yard? Is the conflict really about Islamic religious loyalty and Christian democratic values?

When I was a teacher, and when I was training teachers, I used to emphasize the importance of "teachable moments". That is a moment when something happens or an issue comes up that touches the student where he or she lives. The moment can give meaning to a lesson that otherwise would be "just words". For example, I have heard news reports of Canadian citizens born in other countries having their travel and lives disrupted for no other reason than the birthplace noted on their passport. These reports can lead into some serious thinking about human rights issues. Are there times when national security must override human rights? Are we in such a time now? Have our friends or relatives suffered discrimination just because they looked Indian or identified themselves as Mohawk? Who is responsible for making racial discrimination illegal and unacceptable in Canada? Who is responsible for seeing that the value of all human beings is respected in this country and in the world?

There are no perfect answers to the questions that swirl around in times like these. Different people will hold different views within the same classroom, the same community or even the same family. It is important that children who feel troubled by what is going on have a chance to air their feelings and receive assurance from adults. One individual far from the centres of power can't fix the troubles of the planet. However, we can act in a way that stops anxieties and fears from undermining peace and respect in the part of the planet where we find ourselves.

Mikennen kowa. Great Peace to you.

SPORTS

The Quinte Mohawk School Lady Wolfpack Basketball team had another outstanding season. Winning the ASG tournament for the second year in a row and finishing a fantastic 3rd place at the district championships. The grade 7 and 8 girls team also finished second in the C & B Cresting tournament in Belleville. The overall record of the team was 15 wins and 2 losses. The combined record the last two seasons is now 35 wins and 2 losses! With our annual trip to Six Nations for the all native basketball tournament the only event left we have had an amazing season. We are looking to defend our title when we head up to Six Nations! The girls have worked hard and have put in the practice hours as well as some girls being involved with the Belleville Spirits basketball. Hopefully in next months letter we can talk about our J.C. Hill (at Six Nations) championship too. With so many returning grade 7's next year and good athletes in grade 6 our future looks headed towards an awesome season in 2003-4!

HOW TO CARE FOR SHEEP

I chose to do my writing assignment on how to care for sheep. The materials you need are hay, grain, water, corn, a barn, wood (for a fence), and barrels to cut in half for water troughs.

The first thing you have to do is mix the corn and grain together in a big mixer. You mix the corn and grain together so they can get both vitamins. Put the grain out in the trough. The grain trough is in all of the pens. The next thing you have to do is put hay out in each pen so they could eat it or make a bed out of it. The third thing you have to do is to get some water to put in each trough.

If there are babies sick and the mothers are sick and they can't give the babies milk, make sure when you bottle feed them that you give them lots of warm milk. If there are mother ewe's who are not very active check them out immediately. If they look very sick call the vet right away. Most of the time you have a lot of fun taking care of sheep. Now you know a lot of things about sheep. Thank you.

Bowling

I'm writing about my bowling trip and the clothes and equipment I need to take with me. This year the Provincials are going to be held in Niagara Falls. It's a really nice place to visit and have a bowling tournament. Anyway, I have to pack the towels for my bowling ball so when my bowling ball gets too slimy from the grease and the oil on the lanes I can wipe it off. I also need a bowling shirt to go to the Provincials. My parents had to order it for me and I get to keep it after the tournament I'll have it for next year. If I hit the pins and they go down two times in a strike it's called a double strike and if I get them down three times it's called a turkey. And when I get one of those I get a free coupon to get a turkey.

I am really looking forward to going to the Provincials in April. My parents, my brother Dustin, and my cousin Susannah are going to watch me bowl. It's going to be a great time!

How to Make French Toast

I am here to tell you how to make fruit-filled french toast with whipped cream and chocolate chips. The very first thing you do is make sure you have 2 eggs, a bit of milk, and 2 or 3 pieces of bread. First, make the batter by cracking the 2 eggs in a bowl then beat the eggs with a fork then add milk to the batter. Keep beating until you can not see any milk anymore. Then you put the bread into the batter and coat on the sides with the batter. Then you flip the toast over and coat the other side. Turn the stove on setting low to medium heat so it doesn't burn. Put the frying pan on the stove and add butter to the pan. Let it heat and melt. Put the bread in the pan, wait a few minutes, then flip it over until both sides are brown. To make it really tasty you can add fruit on top and add the second piece on top to make a sandwich. Remove it from the pan, put it on a plate, add whip cream and other toppings you want. Then help mom clean up, eat and enjoy.

How to Fish and my Fishing Tips

I am Eric Hill and I am going to tell you how I fish and a few of my fishing tips. First, I recommend using a Coleman fishing pole which you can purchase at Canadian Tire in Belleville or Napanee. I use 10 lb. test fishing line because if you have a 7lb. fish on your line it might snap. Also, buy lures or hooks, I prefer to use banana bell sinkers but many fisherman buy clamp-on sinkers. Needle nose pliers are good to have on hand in case a fish swallows your hook.

Next, you tie the line on the reel and thread the line through the hoops on the rod. Make sure that you have at least a foot of line to tie on your lure. Stick on your sinkers with the needle nose pliers, then you are ready to buy bait. I prefer to buy bait at Moon's Bait Shop, also I prefer to use minnows but you can buy worms or fake bait. You can use minnows to catch a bass, a sheep head, perch or a pike. With worms you can catch walleye, perch, and sunfish. With fake bait you can catch a cold! That's what usually happens to me, I wait a long time for a fish when I use fake bait. Put your bait on securely so it won't fall off when you cast it out in the water.

When casting flip the bail, hold the line, turn your body in a half circle, and turn back around. Release all except the rod, let it sink a little then nip the bail down. I hope you enjoy fishing.

News from the Resource Room #17

We have had a wonderful two terms. Two big highlights for us was cooking a lovely meal and inviting our family and friends in, to share with us, and the other was a fun and exciting train ride from Belleville to Kingston and back, then we rode on the Belleville city buses when we came back! Also running in our class is a science-Robotics enrichment class. The program was developed by the Centre for Engineering Educational Outreach at Tufts University. It integrates the teaching of math, science, reading and writing into the solving of engineering design problems. Learning interdisciplinary topics through engineering is a highly successful and motivating technique because it capitalizes on students' love to create and build. All the materials were supplied by the Lego Company, including a digital camera, software and all the robotic electronics and materials to build working robots. Hopefully, we'll have a showing of a variety of working robotics by the end of May! Happy spring!

SEXUAL ASSAULT

Sexual Assault is any unwanted act of a sexual nature imposed by one person upon another. Sexual Assault can include:

- At least 1 in 4 women will be sexually assaulted in their life.
- 9 ½ of those assaults happen before the woman is 17 years of age.
- 1 In 6 women will be sexually assaulted while in university.
- Among children, one half of girls and one third of boys are the victims of sexual assault.
- As adults, women are the victims of 90% of sexual assaults.

Most Sexual Assaults are not reported. Only 10 - 40% of Sexual Assaults among the general public are reported, and only 1% of date rapes are reported.

POSTCARDS FROM THE VISION QUEST

by Joseph E Brant

"Home Is Not Where You Live. But Where They Understand You"

Saturday mornings for me are ...like ...heaven. Generally, I wake up around nine or ten. Or eleven, then I read for a while. I get up, go downstairs just before the hour and find out what movies will be on soon, grab a grapefruit and eat it like an orange while I watch whatever Nashville cable will show me. Lately it's been trash like "Jawbreaker," "Heathers," and "Never Been Kissed." just love those movies because they take me away from my life. They remind me of high school and how it is a world of its own.

In a sense, you really can block certain life experiences together like chapters in a book. Between birth and, say, five years we were entirely under our parent's care. They, as well as our grandparents, could do no wrong. They were perfect. Yes, that's what we think at that age.

Between five and 14 was the Quinte Mohawk phase where many of us – at least I did, anyway – built up our 'we are a special people' mentality. I learned that, in the context of Canada and North America, I was a member of a unique community of people. It would be rare to find many others – though many exist, of course – that would be like ours; we are not a municipality, a town, a village or city. I learned how to dance, wear the traditional clothes, and to not refer to it as a costume. I also learned that (the historical) Joseph Brant was a hero because he was our leader who sided with the British and was a Christian. I learned that one should never, ever laugh during a presentation at the school's strawberry festival.

High school was its own world because – for us, anyway – we were free from the confines of parents and the what-are-you-doing-in-the-hall?-ism of QMS for at least six or seven hours a day. We never had the opportunity to really walk to a friends' house and stop at the convenience store on the way home from school, for example, the way so many new friends could.

I wanted to know different people during that time. Oka – the event – had just taken place, as well as the occupation at the band office, and smuggling was rampant. I wondered, first, what people on the outside think about all of this, and also, what do they do when there is discourse in their communities? Of course, none of my new white friends had any opinions.

But they just seemed different. They didn't talk in terms of 'us against them.' They wanted to know about teepees and rain dances – I laughed it off, I wondered how they couldn't know more about us – and when they did ask about me and my culture, I couldn't really tell them much, so I laughed that off too. They all, without fail, knew they would go to college, which was a bit startling to me. Did they all have parents like mine, who continually told them from the moment they were born that "you're not just gonna get your high school diploma" too?

I'm supposed to say now that it's okay to drop out of high school if you have to or just get that diploma or do upgrading or go to one of those almost-high-school programs, but I just can't. I'll not allow it unless you understand that any one of those things is just a starting point. Each of us deserves better and should expect more of ourselves. Time for a new chapter...

When I moved away to college, I was scared as hell. When I said goodbye to my mom the day before she drove home and left me in this foreign country, I cried and cried and cried, until I got back to my dorm room where I had to look calm and ambivalent for the roommates – you know, just like any other teenager. There was nothing I wanted more than to go right back home at that moment, though.

Then I thought, what's at home for me? I wanted to work in the country music business; I'd gone to the extent of completing the application, writing the SAT, getting accepted at the school, getting money from the band and, because the school was really, really expensive, I got a scholarship from the National Aboriginal Achievement Foundation, and now I wanted to go home "because why?" It wasn't that I was lonely or homesick at all. I was afraid of the unknown.

Whether you've been raised on reserve, in a town, village, city or hamlet moving away from home is a requirement. This has been one of the most important discoveries I've made in my journey. It may take a while but eventually you will come to know an honest, fully realized version of yourself. Transition is difficult but the reward is well worth it.

Adolescence, those teenage years up to about age 25, is a time generally regarded as reckless, filled with youthful indiscretion. It's easy to assume it means that you can drink heavily and do drugs and have sex with lots of people, and I guess that is what it means if you're stupid. For intelligent people, and those who strive to be intelligent, it means you can try different things: look into different majors in school, try to make friends with people unlike you, read strange books with weird titles and weirder pictures, go to a lesbian bar, pretend you're rich and spend too much money on a shirt or jacket. It's easier to do these things when you don't know everyone around you. Mom, an old friend, or anyone who knows your long history will question you on these things, if you live at home, these things that you don't have to answer to. Here is why: not only are you discovering – for yourself – how to define and identify who you really are, you're weeding out all of those things that you do not enjoy, those things other people wish they had the courage to try. Going out on those limbs and making a few mistakes in the end make you a more complete person, someone who's more open to identify with others.

Then you can move back home. I, for one, have always assumed I'd someday move back to Tyendinaga. When I was young, I pictured myself in my 80s, along with my lifetime friends Noreen and Tara living in three adjoining units at the Elder's Lodge. 'When I tire of the music business...' I told myself. Who knew that would happen so much sooner than Elder's Lodge eligibility?

In a way I feel as though I've already moved home. Becoming intelligent – investigating the world and my place in it – ironically served to simply remind me of who I am and where I come from. Because nothing else made as much sense. In my search for something other than what I'd taken for granted at home, I realized that the great, big, intimidating world needs people, individuals, who can come outside of their comfortable circle and articulate who they are. Governments, for example, will never understand who we are unless we're able to tell them, sometimes speaking their own language. And everyone I know here, many of whom think only in terms of black and white, really need to be reminded now and then that, on some level, the entire world is grey (made more beautiful, of course, by us reds).

Putting facts or accepted truths under new scrutiny can only amount to, at the very least, a better understanding of our history and the history we're making. Some examples: ethnocentrically speaking, the fact that Historical Joseph Brant declared himself a leader, sided with the British and was a Christian are the very reasons he'd not be considered a hero; as well, being a sovereign nation, do we want to be financially dependent on other governments forever? If not, what do we have to do, and what kind of sacrifices might we have to make, to reach that goal? What is our definition of traditionalism and how does it relate to our future?

These questions cannot be answered, or even asked, without education, without being alone for a while, experiencing all that the world can show an individual, thinking about who you are, who you want to be and how to get there. The quest for knowledge, that desire to always be a better and more informed person today than I was yesterday, is never-ending and continually fulfilling.

If you get tired, though, like on a Saturday morning, just turn on the TV, grab a grapefruit and watch a dumb movie. Preferably one that reminds you of life the way it used to be, and all the ways it can be better.

FYI: It's Joe, y'all! Originally from Tyendinaga, currently living in Nashville. "Postcards From the Vision Quest" is my attempt to uncover the meaning of life. Help me if you can. Email your ideas and comments to: mohawkvisionquest@canada.com

PLEASE PLAN TO JOIN US FOR THIS FUNDRAISING EVENT

To ALL Community Members:

The students of the Roots to Routes program would like to inform the community of the Student Exchange that they will be involved in this semester. This month, the students of the program will be greeting their twin students from Cumberland House, Saskatchewan. Cumberland House is located in the Northeastern part of the province, on the Saskatchewan River. The Roots to Routes students will then be visiting Cumberland House between May 9-16, 2003.

The Roots to Routes students will be hosting the Cumberland House students from April 12th -18th, during which time many activities and events shall be enjoyed by both groups, including a showcase tour of Tyendingaga. Another event highlighting our community and its members, will be a Social on the evening of April 14th. The students would like to extend an open invitation to anyone who wishes to join them. The Social begins at 7:00pm at the Community Centre. This would be an excellent opportunity to meet people from another part of the country and also a chance to visit with others that you may not get to see often enough!

This student exchange has been in the works since September of 2002 and would not be possible without the support from the YMCA of Greater Toronto and Youth Exchanges Canada. Exchanges Canada is an initiative of the Federal Government that provides students, between the ages of 11-18, the opportunity to gain knowledge and an understanding of Canada, to connect with one another and experience the diversity of Canadian communities, languages and cultures.

This will be an excellent experience for our Youth and we wish to extend our appreciation for all of the support we have received from our community members. The Roots to Routes students would also like to say "Nia:wen" to Chief and Council for the in-kind services and financial donation, which will go toward offsetting the costs of hosting the exchange students.

If we pass in our travels be sure to extend your greetings, because after all, Tyendingaga is known for its excellent hospitality!

Students of the Roots to Routes Program 2003.
