Federal Indian Day School Class Action

Dear Class Member,

The January 13, 2023 deadline for the Claims Process is fast approaching. If you submitted a Claim Form but have not received compensation or an eligibility decision from the Claims Administrator, there may be additional steps you need to take to complete your claim.

Please read through the information below, which identifies potential issues that may impact the processing of your claim by the Claims Administrator (Deloitte). If you have already submitted your Claim Form and received compensation, there are no additional steps for you to take and the process is complete. Note that if you submitted your Claim Form within the past three months, the Claims Administrator may require additional time to process your claim.

1. If you received a letter from the Claims Administrator requesting additional information:

You must submit any missing or clarifying information to the Claims Administrator as soon as possible. Incomplete information in your Claim Form will lead to delays or a possible ineligibility decision. The letter from the Claims Administrator will outline which information is still required in order for your Claim to be processed.

A list of common issues that lead to delays (or ineligibility) in the Claim Form review process is available here.

2. If you sent your Claim Form to Gowling WLG (Class Counsel) instead of the Claims Administrator:

Class Counsel does not automatically forward your Claim to the Claims Administrator. You must submit your Claim Form and Extension Request Form directly to the Claims Administrator by January 13, 2023 at 11:59 PM (PST).

3. If you submitted an Extension Request Form without a Claim Form:

Extension Request Forms and Claim Forms must be received by the Claims Administrator (Deloitte) by January 13, 2023 at 11:59 PM (PST). The Claims Administrator will not accept Claim Forms after that date. We strongly advise that you submit your Claim Form at the same time as your Extension Request Form.

Please contact the Claims Administrator at 1-888-221-2898 to confirm the status of your claim if you believe one of the above issues applies to you.

Class Counsel remains available to assist, free of charge, during the extension period. Mental health and wellness support also remains available through the Hope for Wellness Help Line at 1-855-242-3310 or the online chat at hopeforwellness.ca open 24 hours a day, 7 days a week.

Sincerely,

Cam Cameron
